

Please do NOT expand LPFM at the expense of current FM translator services. I listen exclusively to FM translator station KLOVE. It is the only station I never have to worry about when young children are listening as it provides only positive, encouraging listening material. Actually, the same is true for the teenagers. Foul language is never used. News reports are factual and reported in such a way that I have no fear about the youngsters hearing them. A great hole would be left without KLOVE being aired on an FM translator.
